

Notice on the Adjustment of 2020 Postgraduate Application for International Students

In order to ensure that applicants can apply for 2020 postgraduate program of our university during the period of epidemic prevention and control, the following adjustments are made on application accordingly.

1. Application Period

(1) The second period of application:

The deadline is extended to March 22, and the deadline for scholarship application is extended to March 22 accordingly.

(2) The third period of application:

It is adjusted to the period from April 11 to May 15, and still only for self-support applicants.

2. Upload of Online Application Documents

(1) Proof of Pending Graduation and Transcripts

For applicants studying in Chinese universities who are unable to upload the proof of pending graduation and official transcripts at this moment, it is allowed to upload instead the screenshot of the educational administration system of the university that can clearly and completely reflect the individual's academic year and performance. The official proof of pending graduation and transcripts may be sent by post with other paper application documents afterwards.

(2) Recommendation Letters

If the recommendation letters cannot be signed by the referees and uploaded at this moment, the applicant may ask the referees to send the recommendation letters directly by email to econema@fudan.edu.cn. If the letter has been sealed, please send it with other required documents by post as soon as your online application is approved.

(3) Original Foreigner Physical Examination Form

Students applying for scholarship, who are unable to go to the medical institution for physical examination due to the epidemic impact, are allowed not to upload the original Foreigner Physical Examination Form to the online application system temporarily. Students can upload a statement that explains why the form is unable to be provided. However, students should send the original Foreigner Physical Examination Form by email to econema@fudan.edu.cn by April 10.

3. Delivery of paper documents

(1) Deadline of Delivery

The deadline for receiving paper documents is extended to May 29, regardless of application period. Application documents can only be sent by post, coming in person is not accepted.

(2) Due to early epidemic impact, some application documents sent by applicants might have been returned, please send the documents again. We apologize for inconvenience caused by it.
